

Hi, I'm Martin. I'm married with three grown up children. I have lived in Ipstones since 2007, when I retired from my career in engineering. Since then, I have had time to help my wife with her business, to undertake some voluntary work and to enjoy my hobbies, which include gardening, walking, swimming, dancing and reading.

I run a garden club at St Leonards where the children learn about growing flowers and vegetables and I also help the children with their reading skills.
